From the Pitteburg Post, Sopt. 18. Terrible Disager at the Alleghany Arsenail

THE BUILDING.

The laboratory of the arsenal was a building some sixty feet by forty, situated near the Greenburg turnpike, in what is called the "Park," lying on the upper side of Butler street. The building was of frame. Some thirty yards from the east end was another building, in which was an engine, used for heating the laboratory by means of steam pipes. In this building were ten apartments, used for boxing cartridges, shot, shell, etc. The large building was the only one on the ground in which powder was used. The magazines are further up the hill, beyond the main building, which stands apart from all the others.

number of girls and boys filling cartridges, shell, etc. The number employed in all was lot girls and 25 boys. In the larger building on Butler street, some 300 boys and girls were employed in preparing cartridges, etc., for filling. PAY DAY.

Yesterday was pay day at the arsenal, and paymaster Bosworth, assisted by Mr. Teese, one of the clerks, was paying the hands employed in the laboratory. Some fifty had been paid, and only three out of the number mentioned above had failed to auswer to their names; so it is more than probable that nearly all were in the building at the time of the accident, and perhaps others, as there was constant going to and fro between the different departments.

occurred at about 2 o'clock, and was disthe buildings), and as far up the Monongie bela river as Port Peru, at which point the smoke was seen. The cause is not preessely known. One account says it was occasioned by the explosion of a shell, a and in fact everything you can wish, will be constant number of which, being sent off for ship ly on band and for sale a ment, fell and caused a concussion which exploded one. Others allege that it was occasioned by fristion of some powder from one of three barrels unloaded upon from one of three barrels unloaded upon the porch of the labratory, by a man name to temperate the labratory, by a man name to temperately my customers in one of the most dimented frick, who had brought it from the magnitude work on O commonce. Duplex or any other escaptions and who was somewhat injured by the zine, and who was somewhat injured by the explosion. It is well settled, however, that the first explosion took place outside, and communicated to room No. 1, where little damage was done beyond setting fire to the clothing of one or two of the girls, who fled in consternation and gave the alarm, causing a sumpede for the doors. Many got out, and then, as is alleged, some persons used their endeavors to induce them to return, and succeeded in getting some to go back, believing the danger to be acquaintances, and while they were inside a second explosion took place, nearly five minutes after the first. This, we are informed, raised the roof from the building. which fell in, burning, and was probably the occasion of so much loss of life. Almost simultaneously with this, another explusion was board in the engine building, and it also took fire.

THE ALARM soon reached the city, the bells were rang sivorously, and the engines were on hand as early as circumstances permitted. The steamers worked well, and the remains of the buildings, which, being of frame, burned very rapidly, were soon sufficiently cool ed to permit an investigation of the ruing and the number of sufferers.

THE SURME OF DISASTER. Of the main building, nothing remained but a heap of smoking debris. The ground about was strewn with fragments of charred wood, torn clothing, balls, caps, grape shot, exploded shells, shoes, fragments of dumer backets belonging to the immites, cartridge paper, sheet-iron, melted lead, etc. Iwo hundred feet from the laboratory was picked up the body of a young girl, terribly manuled; another body was seen to fly in the air and separate into two parts; an arm was thrown over the wall; a foot was picked up near the gate; a piece of skull was found a hundred yards away, and pieces of the intestmes were scattered about the grounds. Some fled out of the ruins covered with flame, or blackened and lace rated with the effects of the explosion, and either fell and expired or lingered in agony until removed. Several were conveyed to houses in the city. Of these, four or five subsequently died. THE REVOYAL OF THE BEAD,

As soon as the flames subsided, the eroud which had collected set to work to remove the bodies from the debris, and in the course of an bour at least forty bodies had been removed, and laid upon boards in groups for identification. Never had we seen such an appalling spectacle. Hodie charred and swollen were scattered here and there over the sward, some mere lind. less trunks. blackened and blondy; some with the limbs remaining, but disordered, Weak Lungs, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the and the flesh hanging from the bones in Nervous System. Nearly all the dead bodies were those of females but only a few could be identified by their features. Some were recognized by the place in which they were found, and one was discovered by her false teeth. Some had apparently died in treat agony, from the contortions of their limbs, while the arms of some were folded, as if in resignation to their fate.

THINGS IN MARYLAND.—The rebel officers treated the citizens of Prederick with a great deal of courtesy, but generally forced upon them their worthless confederate notes and scrip in exchange for provisions or anythma else they desired. The merchants and others who had articles to sell, upon the rebelforces entering the town, closed their places of business and refused to sell. Stuart threatened to use force, unless the stores wore opened, and then the marchants concealed the bulk of their streks and opened their doors. One of the lurest harness makers in town saved his stock by placing small lots at the nouses of friends, leaving in his store a small quantity of the most unby Titcomb, together with a large assortment of popular Books, Toy Books, Juvenile Books, &c. desirable naticles. At the store Col, Gordan Books, Toy Books, Juvenile Books, &c. don, (of the Charleton Mercury, and for-merly of New Bedford, Mass.) called at a store and insisted upon paying for goods he Plano Forts.

From the Pittsburg Post, Sept. 18. Terrible Disaster at the Alleghany

The laboratory of the arsenal was a building some sixty feet by forty, situated near the Greenburg turnpike, in what is called the "Park," lying on the upper side of Butler street. The building was of frame. Some thirty yards from the east end was another building, in which was an engine, used for heating the laboratory by means of means any the building building. of steam pipes. In this building were ten apartments, used for boxing cartridges, shot, shell, etc. The large building was the only one on the ground in which powder was used. The magazines are further up the hill, beyond the main building, which stands apart from all the others.

THE INMATES. In this building were employed a large number of girls and boys filling cartridges, shell, etc. The number employed in all was 161 girls and 25 boys. In the larger building on Butler street, some 300 boys and girls were employed in preparing cartridges, etc., for filling.

PAY DAY. Yesterday was pay day at the arsenal, and paymaster Bosworth, assisted by Mr. Teese, one of the clerks, was paying the bands employed in the laboratory. Some filty had been paid, and only three out of the number mentioned above had failed to answer to their names; so it is more than probable that nearly all were in the building at the time of the accident, and perhaps others, as there was constant going to and fro between the different departments.

occurred at about 2 o'clock, and was distinctly heard in the city (shaking severely the buildings), and as far up the Monouguhela river as Port Peru, at which point the smoke was seen. The cause is not precasely known. One account says it was occasioned by the explosion of a shell, a number of which, being sent off for ship ment, fell and caused a concussion which exploded one. Others allege that it was occasioned by friction of some powder from one of three barrels unloaded upon the porch of the labratory, by a man names Frick, who had brought it from the ungressione and who was somewhat injured by the zine, and who was somewhat injured by the explosion. It is well settled, however, that the first explosion took place outside, and communicated to room No. 1, where little damage was done beyond setting fire to the clothing of one or two of the girls, who fled in consternation and gave the alarm, remained a stumped for the door. causing a stampede for the doors. Many got out, and then, as is alleged, some persons used their endeavors to induce them to return, and succeeded in getting some to go back, believing the danger to be over. Some returned in search of their acquaintanees, and while they were inside a second explosion took place, nearly five minutes after the first. This, we are informed, raised the roof from the building, which fell in, burning, and was probably the occasion of so much loss of life. Almost simultaneously with this, another explosion was beard in the engine building, and it also took fire. and it also took fire.

THE ALARM soon reached the city, the bells were rung visorously, and the engines were on hand as early as circumstances permitted. The steamers worked well, and the remains of the buildings, which, being of frame, burned very rapidly, were soon antheigntly cooled to permit an investigation of the ruing

THE SCENE OF DISASTER. Of the main building, nothing remained but a heap of smoking debris. The ground about was strewn with fragments of charred wood, torn clothing, balls, caps, grape shot, expluded shells, shoes, fragments of dinner baskets belonging to the inmates, carriedge paper, sheet-iron, metted lead, etc. Two builded feet from the laboratory was picked best quality and low nice. up the body of a young girl, terribly man-wled; another body was seen to fly in the air and separate into two parts; an arm was thrown over the wall; a foot was picked up near the gate; a piece of skull was found a hundred yards away, and pie ces of the intestines were scattered about the grounds. Some fled out of the ruins covered with flame, or blackened and lace rated with the effects of the explosion, and either fell and expired or lingered in agony until removed. Several were conveyed to houses in the city. Of these, four or five subsequently died. THE REMOVAL OF THE BEAD. As soon as the flames subsided, the erowd which had collected set to work to remove the bodies from the debria, and in the course of an hour et least forty bodies had been removed, and laid upon boards in We do not profess to have discovered some Roots had been removed, and laid upon beards in known only to the Indians of South America," and a come for "all diseases which fleeh is heir to," but we claim to present to the public a truly valuable preparation, which every intelligent Physician in the conterty will approve of and recommend. We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two felt view of beneating the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spariors machines made in militation of ours. The metal in them, from the front casing to the smallest piece, is of 1 our quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are lift away in secret places, where it would be impressible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive menulacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always lattle to great out of order, and are turn to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair. The qualities to be looked for in a machine are certainly of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the best labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best actal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The putchasure of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities and only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of spect, but less labor than any othern, whether the initiation of must on net. Dear Sin:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brendy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adort Beaubon Whisky as a substitute, both in the hospicals and private practice; and, since the latter less come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality. Presuming that your readence in the vicinity of the manifacturers of Whisky is Rectucky, as well as your shill as a chemist, will enable you to select a relative article, and leaving full confidence in your integrity, we are led to enquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pare Old Bourbon Whisky for the use of the sick. Soldiers' Suffrage Bill.

The Milwaukee Sentinel of this morning says-"The soldiers suffrage bill, we learn, passed the Assembly last evening by a vote of fifty-two to thirty-eight. Platto, of this city, made a long speech against it, which probably had something to do with the unexpected majority it got."

A Problemation of Emauelpation!

The President has at last weakly rielded to the "pressure" upon him about which he has so bitterly complained, and issued his proclamation of negro emancipation! It is not yet a mouth since he aunounced his purpose to "save the Union in the shortest way under the constitution." now announces his purpose to save it by overriding the constitution.

For he has no constitutional power to issue this proclamation of emancipationnone whatever. The constitution forbids it by its spirit from beginning to end. And the President has no authority not derived from the constitution-none whatever. He is himself the creature of the con-

Nobody need argue with us that he has the power under the military law. Military law does not destroy the fundamental civil law. In war, as in peace, the consti tution is "the supreme law of the land."

The government, then, by the act of the President, is in rebellion, and the war is reduced to a contest for subjugation. It has assumed the character that abolition. iam has designed from the outset it should When the war shall be finished, whether the south shall be subjugated or not, the character of the government will have to be determined, if indeed the military power shall not already have deter-fregiment, which but a few weeks since nummined it .- Chicago Times.

If there had been any doubt as to the spirit in which the true men of the country should receive the proclamation of President Lincoln, the Times would settle the question at once. The "weakness" charged upon the President is only an evidence the country has long needed that the at- Guan; D J McDonald, J W Miner, Corp. tempt to save slavery with the Union has been abandoned, and of the progress and strength of a "pressure" hundreds of thousands of devoted, loyal men will hail with satisfaction. What Ams It?-Can any body tell us what ails the Chicago Journal. It seems to feel as bad about the President's proclamation of emancipation as the Times does, though it has a different manner of manifestation. Without waiting to see what they would say, it assigns an attitude of opposition or dissatisfaction to the "radical" men of the republican party, and calls upon the "middle" men to come to the support of the President. The real trouble is, we apprehend, that the "middle" men, who wanted nothing whatever done with the question of slavery, have been set aside. and the wishes of the despised abolitionists" have been consulted to the extent at | Co. BY WISOCHAR STATE THEORAPH LINE. On.coin Union Passenger Deput.

Last Night's Report. PHILADELPHIA, Sopt. 23.

The following is a dispatch to an after noon paper : HARRISBURG, Sept. 23. We have some stirring news from our army in Maryland and Virginia, received

B. Thomas, democrats, voting with the en- | night, and who left the Union army on Sattire body of republican members in the af. | urday. He says the Union army is rapidly crossing into Virginia at Williamsport. Kenly's brigade is in the advance, and went over the river on Sunday night. Couch's division crossed Monday. Franklin's corps was to follow immediately.

through a gentleman who reached here last

McClellan and staff were at Williamsport, actively engaged in crossing troops, An impression prevailed in the army that the corps of Heintzieman and Signi are now in Virginia, and that their mission was to stop the retreat of the rebels.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. The emancipation proclamation of the President is generally approved here. The Republican predicts that it will restore to the President all his old friends, and unite the sound portion of the people in favor of the Union and constitution. The Intelligencer regards the proclamation as a harmless production, but adds The good conduct of the rebels in their | that " if it should prove otherwise, it will occupation is fully confirmed. They allow open issues too tramendous for calculano plundering, and treat even Union citi- tion." Our army officers appear to acquiesce. Some of them express their warm ap-Maryland or Virginia money. Nothing is proval.

The conduct of Gov. Stanley's administration in North Carolina is under examination by the government. Complaints have with new Enfield guns; and many of their been made against Gov. Stanley. CINCINNATI, Sept. 23.

General Wright, in a special order issued to-day, says the daily prohibition of business after 4 p. m. is hereby rescinded. On evcry Saturday at 2 p. m., business of every kind will be suspended until 5 p. m., during which time all able-bodied men in Cincinnati, Covington, and Newport will meet for drill. Passes to citizens, except to enter the military lines, and passes issued under orders regulating drafting of the enrolled militia are dispensed with. In dispensing with daily drills, and suspension of business, the general commanding has in view the relief, as far as practicable of people from the business to which they have not been accustomed, but would impress on the minds of all the fact that the danger has not passed away; that the present military organizations must be rigidly adhered to and carefully preserved. He thanks the citi-2-ns for the zeal and alacrity with which they spring to arms and entered upon the labor of common defense, and the patience with which they have borne the various re strictions imposed upon them.

St. Louis, Sept. 23. The president's proclamation has been ell received here. Secessionista growl, but the Union men are delighted. Many flags are out, which have not been display ed for months. The Germans are prepar ing to fire a salute to morrow evening. A ratification meeting to endorse the procla mation is advertised to take place. All the papers speak approvingly, the Republican excepted. That paper is dumb. To-Day's Report. [Reported Exchainely for the Daily Gazette.]

Washington, Sept. 23.

Gen. White is here under arrest, to await an investigation into the circumstances at tending the surrender of Harner's Ferry.

MORNING DISPATORES.

Headquarters Army of the Potomac, the Tuesday Evening, Sept. 23. Information received to-day from a ser vant who deserted from the rebels yesterday, shows their loss in general officers in the late battles is greater than ours. Gon. Wright, of Ga., is wounded in two places; Branch, of N. C., killed; Longstreet. wounded; Maj. Gon. Anderson, wounded; Gen. Colquit, of Ga., killed. The rebels "The inclosed list of names are only part admit their loss to be 20,000 at the battle of the number of the killed and wounded in of Antietam, and 30,000 since they entered Maryland. An Alabama brigade, comm inded by Col. Corning, has not been able to muster 50 men since the battle. Residents of this section of Maryland have suffered terribly since the occupation of the two armies, and in many cases families which a few days ago were in comfort able circumstances are now wanting the necessaries of life. All forage and fuel and also subsistence used by our army is promptly paid for. Claims of those pertons whose farms have been laid waste and buildings destroyed during the battles are referred to authorities for settlement. The movements of the rehels are mysterious. Military authorities here feel eatisfied that the whole rebel army is on the opposite side of the Potomac. Information o that effect has been received to day. l'hair intentions are not yet develoued. An attempt to re-occupy Maryland must be considered impracticable.

AFTERINOON DISPATORES.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 23. The American's correspondent at Sharps ourg, under date of the 22d, says there has come a lull, in which the contending armies are lying quietly with the Potomac between them, waiting developements. Since the reconnoisance across the Potomacat Clarks. along the lines, scarcely disturbed even by the skirmishing of pickets. We hold the river at Sharpsburg in strong force, while the rebals occupy the opposite bank, but not, it is thought, in force. We also occupy Williamsport in sufficient strength to resist any attempts of the rebels to dislodge us. Harper's Ferry is likewise in our pas session, and we thus stand in a position to check recrossing to this state, and to recommence offensive operations.

The army is not idle. Large column are in motion to-day. A regiment of cavalry crossed the river last night, about three miles from Sarpsburg, on a reconnoisanco. The rebols showed themselves on the edge of a wood, but made no demonstration. The battle field of Wednesday is now pretty well cleared of all material evi dences of the struggle. The dead have all Hagerstown and other places.

Hannishviic, Sept. 23. Gov. Curtin has issued a general order returning thanks to the people for their noornors of the loyal states.

WILLIAMSPORT, Sept. 22, Times' letter.- I'ms place may be considered the extreme right of the Union lines. Since the departure of the rebels across the river last Saturday, nothing of interest has occurred. The rebel pickets are now on the opposite side. Washington, Sept. 23. Times special.-Leesburg and vicinity are in nossession of our forces, commanded by a fighting general.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. Special to Tribune.-The division of Stahl, late Schenck's, of Sigel's corps, has been ordered to Centraville to occupy that place. Hooker is confident that he will be able to take the field within two weeks. His wound has ceased to be painful, and has every favorable symptom. The President and several of the cabinet called upon him and consulted with regard to the conduct of the war. Gen. McClellan, in a letter in which he thanks him for his brilliant services at the battle of Antietam, and expresses regret for the wound, says, "I know had you not been struck you would have gained the main road. It was the only one upon which the enemy could retreat, and the one upon which he finally did retreat; and had it been gained, he would have been intercepted." It is Hooker's opinion that the enemy have never been more than 80,000 strong in Maryland, not even when reinforced by

Jackson with 30,000, after that general had taken Harper's Ferry. Residents near the ford over the Potomac at which the rebels crossed, say that three or four bundred of them got out of their depth, and were drowned. The ford is a narrow one, and the descent on each side is steep, WABHINGTON, Sept. 23. Herald's special .- A reconnoisance sent out by Banks towards Blue Ridge, returned to night. They proceeded as far as Aldie and Ashby's Gap, a distance of 50 miles; meeting pickets of the 6th Virginia cavalry at Aldie, they drove them in, and pushed on to Ashby's Gap, where they met the regiment and dispersed it, capturing a few prisoners, among whom was Lieut. Col. Green, 6th Virginia, badly wounded. The rebelu got wind of the approach of our troops on Sunday, and moved rapidly off a train of nearly 900 wagons, the capture of which was one of the objects of the expedition. The reconnoisance was a brilliant

General Pope's department extends over the states of Iowa. Wisconsin and Minnesota, besides the territories of Dakota and Nebraska, and he will use all the available force of these states necessary for the prompt punishment of these miscreauts. The Governor of Wisconsin has been ordered to furnish 2,500 mounted infantry for operations in this state, and the Governor of Iowa to furnish troops to march into Dakota

A sufficient force will also be stationed among the Chippewas and Winnebagoes to keep them in order, while the chastisement of the Sioux is in progress.—St. Paul Press.

REDUCTION OF BAGGAGE TRAINS, -- A stringent order has been issued enforcing the absolute necessity of reducing the bag gage trains of troops in the field. Officers will bereafter be allowed to carry only their ordinary mess chests and a valise or capetbag. No trunks or boxes will be permitted in the baggage trains. Privates are prohibited from carrying carpet-bags and boxes on the regimental wagons. These things are hereafter to be ejected from the wagons and cars wherever found. A stop is also to be put to the carrying of sutler's goods in regimental and quartermasters' wagons, under the guise of quartermasters' and commissary stores. This, it is supposed, will reduce the trains one third.

Some time since, the lamented Coneral carnay ordered his officers to wear sewed on their caps a square bit of red flannel, that he might the more easily recognize them. They have determined to adopt this red badge as an honorary distinction. burg Saturday last, perfect quiet has reigned and their new commander, Gen. Stoneman, approves of it. Field and staff officers wear it on the crown of their caps; line officers on the front of their caps, and privates on the right side. In the next fight in which they may be engaged, Kearney's men with their badges, will avenge their beloved commander.

Mr. Ericason has given the name of "Camanche" to the immense iron clad vessel now building in Jersey City, and intended to be the pioneer of a fleet for the pro tection of our Pacific coast. Crowds of workings are employed upon the vessel She is building in the same yard as the Wechawken, only the latter being on the stocks nearest the water must be launched first. The peculiar mode of building a mailed man-of-war, which, when finished in been buried, and the wounded removed to every way, can be taken apart piecemeal and transported like a portable mess-cheet. is very interesting.

A French statistician has calculated that the civilized world spends every twenty four ble response to his call for 50,000 volun- hours, in royal and military salutes and graceful recognition of the noble services | teers to resist invasion. The draft has been | polite exchanges of volleys, in wharf and rendered our cause by the Irish adopted postponed until the 16th of October. For the Dally Gazette.

The President of the United States has spoken. He has at last shown himself worthy of being the leader of a great and free people. The proclamation which he has just issued thrills every loyal heart. forces will cross at this point for the pres. Let all doubts as to the final success of our cause be dismissed. The President is in earnest, and proposes to use every means in his power to suppress the rebellion. For seventeen months he has been trying to save the Union and save slavery at the same time. Henceforth he proposes to save the Union. He has at last exhibited the nerve to dare and to do, which many were fearful that he did not possess. This proclamation has been issued after the most mature deliberation, and after it became evident that the rebellious states were thoroughly quited and terribly in earnest. The President says to those states that their armies must disperso and their soldiers return to their homes before January or he will no longer be responsible for their "chattels." He further proclaims to the slaves in those states, that within one hundred days he proposes to have them quit laboring to support the rebel army, and commence laboring to support the Union army. What a change! Three millions of recruits in a single day! At least one million of able-bodied persons, friendly to our cause, scattered through the enemy's country, to act as guides and spies, to aid our armies in gathering forage, building fortifications and performing all other isbors for which they may be adapted. Thus the poor slave is permitted to earn his freedom while he is seeking to save the Union. The negro question, which has heretofore met us on every corner of the streets, is now transferred to the rebel lines. This proclamation will carry dismay throughout the south. As the rebel soldier reads it on the banks of the Potomac, he will, if possible, hurry away to protect his family and friends in the far-off south. Mr. Davis can save his friends in the rebellious states from the utter ruin which environs them by dispersing his armies before the first of January. If he does not do it, his people must take the consequences.

This proclamation will be opposed by all those who are more auxious to preserve slavery than the Union. Such men will say that Lincoln is in "rebellion against the constitution." They have heard the pillars of the constitution crack every time our armies have been victorious. According to these men, Mr. Lincoln violated the constitution when he sent bread to the starving garrison at Fort Sumter.

They again claimed that he violated the constitution when he marched his armics through Maryland and into Virginia without first getting permission of those states. Just as though the armies of the United States had no right to be in any of the states.] They claim that Lincoln violates the constitution when he suppresses a news paper for justifying the rebellion, or arrests a man for sending information to the ene. large and well attend atock of my. They would have Mr. Lincoln go back to the good old times of James Buchanan, and state, in a message to congress, that he has no power under the constitution to put down the robellion. They would be pleated to see treason rampant throughout the north, and their dear southern friends victorious in battle. Their constitution contains but one section, and reads as follows:

G CONSTITUTION. "We, the royal knights of the golden circle, comprising eleven states now in rebellion against the United States, also a few unyielding friends scattered through some of the towns in the northern states. and who have their devotional meetings by starlight because they dare not assemble in laylight, by our delegates in covention assembled, in order to make the slavery of the colored race perpetual and universal. establish injustice, insure the dissolution of the American Union, provide for the immediate death and burial of all those who prefer to have for President the man who was regularly elected under the old fossil constitution, instead of Hon. Jefferson Davis, the worthy chief of our noble order. promote eternal warfare, and secure the everlasting curse of slavery to ourselves and our posterity: do ordain and establish this constitution, which shall forever be unto us and our children THE constitution of the United States of America. ABTICLE L.

"Sec. 1. All power, legislative as well as executive, shall be vested in Hou. Jefferson Davis aforesaid : he shall have full power | No. 49 Lake Street, Chicago, 111, to suspend the writ of habeas corpus, to arrest and punish all citizens who are not loyal to this constitution, to seize and confiscate their property, to arm and equip the slaves of such citizens, and compel them to fight against all who are not loyal to this constitution, to make captures upon land and upon the sca, and to do any act or thing necessary or convenient to enforce and make perpetual the principles herein set forth, anything in any other constitution to the contrary notwithstanding. For the enforcement of this constitution we heroby pledge our sacred honors and our lives."

This is the "constitution" which Mr Lincoln has repeatedly violated, but he has never yet violated the old constitution signed by Washington. It is the old constitution which he took the oath to support on the 4th day of March, 1861. Around that old constitution the President has rallied a million armed men, democrats and republicans, to enforce its provisions in able terms for those who desire his services. Address every state of the Union, and it will be gentlember 24, 1862. done, at whatever sacrifice of treasure, life, or private interests. May God speed the efforts of our noble President, and may our country again be restored to an honorable and lasting peace. If any one proposes to resist the President, they bad better step one side before they are destroyed.

A Proclamation of Emancipation!

The President has at last weakly yielded to the "pressure" upon him about which he has so bitterly complained, and issued his proclamation of negro emancipation! It is not yet a mouth since he autounced his purpose to "save the Union in the shortest way under the constitution." He now aunounces his purpose to save it by overriding the constitution.

For he has no constitutional power to is-they have resigned themselves to the consue this proclamation of emancipationnone whatever. The constitution forbids it by its spirit from beginning to end. And the President has no authority not derived from the constitution-none whatever. He is himself the creature of the constitution.

Nobody need argue with us that he has the power under the military law. Military law does not destroy the fundamental civil law. In war, as in peace, the consti-tution is "the supreme law of the land."

The government, then, by the act of the President, is in rebellion, and the war is reduced to a contest for subjugation. It the following from Keesville, Sept. 19th: reduced to a contest for subjugation. It has assumed the character that abolitionism has designed from the object it should assume. When the war shall be finished, whether the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, whether the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton, the south shall be subjugated or has reduced the brigade to a mere skeleton. not, the character of the government will there being scarcely enough men left to have to be determined, if indeed the mili- form half a regiment. The Wisconsin 2d tary power shall not already have determined it .- Chicago Times.

If there had been any doubt as to the spirit in which the true men of the country should receive the proclamation of President Lincoln, the Times would settle the question at once. The "weakness" charged upon the President is only an evidence the country has long needed that the attempt to save slavery with the Union has been abandoned, and of the progress and strength of a "pressure" hundreds of thousands of devoted, loyal men will hail with satisfaction. When the Times complains and finds fault, let patriots take heart and rejoice.

H Richardson, W S Barcus, -- Leman, WHAT ALLS IT?-Can any body tell us what ails the Chicago Journal. It seems to feel as had about the President's proclamation of emancipation as the Times does, though it has a different manner of manifestation. Without waiting to see what they would say, it assigns an attitude of opposition or dissatisfaction to the "radical" men of the republican party, and calls upon the "middle" men to come to the support of the President. The real trouble is, we apprehend, that the "middle" men, who wanted nothing whatever done with the question of slavery, have been set saide, and the wishes of the despised "abolitionists" have been consulted to the extent at least of a recognition of their importance and services in conducting the war, and a concession granted them never before obtained. If the President shall faithfully enforce his proclamation, there will be more necessity for rallying the conservative than the radical men of the Union.

The Sentinel naturally see-saws over it, up or down, just as suits the fancy of its

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. Special to Tribune.-The division of Stahl, late Schenck's, of Sigel's corps, has been ordered to Centraville to occupy that place. Hooker is confident that he will be able to take the field within two weeks has every favorable symptom. The President and several of the cabinet called upon him and consulted with regard to the conduct of the war. Gen. McClellan, in a letter in which he thanks him for his brilliant services at the battle of Antietam, and expresses regret for the wound, says, " I know had you not been struck you would have gained the main road. It was the only one upon which the enemy could retreat, and the one upon which he finally did retreat; and had it been gained, he would have been intercepted."

It is Hooker's opinion that the enemy have never been more than 80,000 strong in Maryland, not even when reinforced by Jackson with 30,000, after that general had taken Harper's Ferry. Residents near the ford over the Potomac at which the rebels crossed, say that three or four hundred of them got out of their depth, and were drowned. The ford is a narrow one, and the descent on each side is steep. Washington, Sept. 23.

Herald's special.—A reconnoisance sent ont by Banks towards Blue Ridge, returned to night. They proceeded as far as Aldie and Asbby's Gap, a distance of 50 miles; meeting pickets of the 6th Virginia cavalry at Aldie, they drove them in, and pushed on to Ashby's Gap, where they met the regiment and dispersed it, capturing a few prisoners, among whom was Lieut. Col. Green, 6th Virginia, badly wounded. The rebels got wind of the approach of our troops on Sunday, and moved rapidly off a train of nearly 900 wagons, the capture of which was one of the objects of the expedition. The reconnoisance was a brilliant one. No turther details are received.

A stop is also to be put to the carrying of sutier's goods in regimental and quartermasters' wagons, under the guise of quartermasters' and commissary stores. This, it is supposed, will reduce the trains one third.

Some time since, the lamented General Kearney ordered his officers to wear sewed on their caps a square bit of red flannel, that he might the more easily recognize They have determined to adopt them. this red hadge as an honorary distinction, and their new commander, Gen. Stoneman, approves of it. Field and staff officers wear it on the crown of their caps; line officers on the front of their caps, and privates on the right side. In the next fight in which they may be engaged, Kearney's men with their badges, will avenge their beloved commander.

Mr. Ericsson has given the name of "Camanche" to the immense iron clad ves-sel now bailding in Jersey City, and intended to be the pioneer of a fleet for the protection of our Pacific coast. Crowds of workmen are employed upon the vessel She is building in the same yard as the Weehawken, only the latter being on the stocks nearest the water must be launched first. The peculiar mode of building a mailed man-of war, which, when finished in every way, can be taken apart piecemeal and transported like a portable mess-chest, is very interesting.

A French statistician has calculated that the civilized world spends every tweaty four hours, in royal and military salutes and polite exchanges of volleys, in wharf and citadel formalities, in the daily and evening guns in all fortresses and men-of-war, all mac are without foundation. Detachments over the globe, a hundred and fifty thoushave been thrown out to feel the position and useless shots. Estimating the cost of would prothe charge at six frances, this duce a daily sum of nine hundred thousand frances, or three millions of frances ($600, 000) annually, which thus go off in smoke.

spoken. He has at last shown himself interest has occurred. The rebel pickets worthy of being the leader of a great and will be exempt from draft, free people. The proclamation which he has just issued thrills every loyal heart. Let all doubts as to the final success of our cause be dismissed. The President is in earnest, and proposes to use every means in his power to suppress the rebellion. For seventeen months he has been trying to save the Union and save slavery at the same time. Henceforth he proposes to save the Union. He has at last exhibited the nerve to dare and to do, which many were fearful that he did not possess. This proc-His wound has ceased to be painful, and lamation has been issued after the most mature deliberation, and after it became evident that the rebellious states were thoroughly united and terribly in earnest, The President says to those states that their armies must disperse and their soldiers return to their homes before January or he "chattels." He further proclaims to the slaves in those states, that within one hundred days he proposes to have them quit army. What a change! Three millions bors for which they may be adapted. Thus the poor slave is permitted to earn his freedom while he is seeking to save the Union.

The negro question, which has heretofore met us on every corner of the streets, is now transferred to the rebel lines. This proclamation will carry dismay throughout the south. As the rebel soldier reads it on the banks of the Potomac, he will, if possible, hurry away to protect his family and friends in the far-off south. Mr. Davis can save his friends in the rebellious states from the atter ruin which environs them by dispersing his armies before the first of January. If he does not do it, his people must ake the consequences.

This proclamation will be opposed by all those who are more anxious to preserve slavery than the Union. Such men will say that Lincoln is in "rebellion against the constitution." They have heard the pillars of the constitution crack every time our armies have been victorious. According to these men, Mr. Lincoln violated the constitution when he sent bread to the starving garrison at Fort Sumter.

They again claimed that he violated the constitution when he marched his armies through Maryland and into Virginia with out first getting permission of those states. Just as though the armies of the United States had no right to be in any of the etates. | They claim that Lincoln violates the constitution when he suppresses a newspaper for justifying the rebellion, or arrests a man for sending information to the enemy. They would have Mr. Lincoln go back to the good old times of James Buchanas, and state, in a mesuage to congress, that he has no power under the constitution to put down the rebellion. They would be pleased to see treason rampant throughout the north, and their dear southern friends victorious in battle. Their constitution contains but one section, and reads as follows:

"WB, the royal knights of the golden circle, comprising eleven states now in redaylight, by our delegates in covention asand our children THE constitution of the United States of America.

to suspend the writ of habeas corpus, to arrest and punish all citizens who are no the slaves of such citizens, and compe pledge our sacred honors and our lives." This is the "constitution" which Mr.

Lincoln has repeatedly violated, but he has never yet violated the old constitution signed by Washington. It is the old constitution which he took the oath to support on the 4th day of March, 1861. Around that old constitution the President has rallied a million armed men, democrats and republicans, to enforce its provisions in every state of the Union, and it will be done, at whatever sacrifice of treasure, life, or private interests. May God speed the efforts of our noble President, and may our country again be restored to an honorable and lasting peacs. If any one proposes to resist the President, they had better step one side before they are destroyed.

Parties in Janeaville or vicinity baving friends in the 13th regiment Wisconsin volnateers, wishing to send letters to them can do so by leaving them at the Myers House, for Lieut. Glover, on or before tomorrow noon, as he has an opportunity of sending them direct. He has information from the regiment as late as the 20th, when they were at Fort Donelson and were generally well.

Second Assembly District Convention. Pursuant to notice, the assembly district convention for the 21 a sembly di trict in Rick county, met at Milton, september 22d, 1882, and organized by choosing H.G Green nen, e-q, of Million, chairman, and J. P. Towne, of Fulton secretary. After some preliminary business the convention proceeded to elect delegates to T. p earnt said assembly district in the congressional convention, to be held at Warestown, the Sith inst., and H. W. Borden, of Mil ton, and B. Burdick, of Fulcon, were chosen such del-

The convention then passed a resolution, by a unan imons vote that I. C. MRS. L. P. HARVEY .- The Beloit Journal says: " Mrs. Harvey was in this city last Saturday, visiting her friends before leaving for St. Louis. The governor has commissioned Mrs. Harvey to visit the bospitals in St. Louis and Missouri, and look after and relieve our poor sick and wounded soldiers."

Splendid Fauit .- We have a couple of pears from the garden of Wm. Machon, which would attract attention in any pomological collection we have ever seen. One of them weighs 13} ounces, and measures more than a foot in its longest circumference. The other weighs 11 ounces, and measures 11 inches longest circumference. Accompanying these is another specimen from the same tree, 2½ ounces in weight, the product of a late blossom. We do not know the name of these fine pears, but we do know that such fruit well pays the cost of raising. The tree on which they grew was transplanted in 1847, and is now large | do at 90a9ic, No 1 spring at 89a90c, No 2 spring at 83c, and flourishing.

Good Work .-- Our attention has been called to a barness manufactured for Dr. on the ruling prices of yesterday. Yellow river sold Pendleton by Mr. McMartin, of this city, which is an unusually good piece of work. Mr. McMartin shows by this specimen that he is an excellent workman; and as he is an upright and honorable man, he is faily entitled to support.

THE BATTLE AT IVEA, - A special dispatch to one of the Chicago papers mentions the 2d Wisconsin as one of the batteries engaged at the buttle of Iuka. This would seem to indicate that the 12th battery was not in it.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION.-James S. Brown, of Milwaukee, has been nominated by the democratic convention as its candidate for congress in the first district.

Exponsed.—The democratic county convention of Dane county endorsed Ryan's

A. J. Turner, editor of the Portage City Register, has been nominated for the assembly in Columbia county. A good numination.

IMPORTANT TO ALIENS .- By a law of con, gress, approved July 17, 1862, it is provided: That any alien of the age of twenty. one years and apwards, who has enlisted, or shall entist, in the armies of the United States, either in the regular or volunteer forces, on receiving an honorable discharge. may, after residing one year in the United States, and proving good character, he admit ed as a citizen without any previous declaration of intention. A Speculating Genics - A policeman who was recently at Montreal says he saw there several men who had enlisted in Boston, and, after getting their bounty, had deserted. One man, who was stopping at a first-class hotel, and was spending his money freely, boasted that he had obtained a bounty four times. DESIBABLE PLACE OF RESIDENCE .- Since it has been announced that Philadelphia has supplied her quota and no draft will be made there, the Ledger says the rush for houses by persons seeking residences in the Eastern and European Tannerles!

city is enormous, and it has even given an impetus to building. I. O. O. F .- The United States Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, in session at Baltimore last week, elected officers as follows: J. B. Nicholson, of Pennsylvania, Grand Sire; William H. Young, of Maryland, Deputy Grand Sire; James L. Riegley,

Grand Corresponding and Recording Secretary; and Joshua Vansant, of Maryland,

Grand Treasurer.
